StyleBlueprint

April 03, 2014 • styleblueprint.com

20 Reasons to Visit The O'More Alumni Show House

Amy Norton

Treat yourself to a visual wonderland this weekend with the opening of O'More College of Design's 2014 Alumni Show House. I had the great pleasure of touring this beautifully restored Franklin home earlier in the week with the mastermind behind the concept, designer Joanne Haynes. As we meandered through all 6,000 square feet Monday, I had a chance to see how it has been transformed and talk to a few of the O'More alumni who were on hand putting finishing touches on their rooms. The finished product not only highlights the caliber students this design school graduates, but shows what kind of magic is possible when talented professionals work collectively for a common cause. In a word, it's marvelous.

[Gallery]

So that, friends, is the tip of the iceberg, as the saying goes. Stop by for your own personal tour — your senses will no doubt be delighted and you'll come away with ideas aplenty for your own home decor projects.

Presented by Traditional Home, The O'More Alumni Show House 2014 was built by Thrive Homes. Click here for a complete list of sponsors and suppliers.

Thanks to Joanne Haynes for the guided tour, and to Terry Bailey for taking today's lovely photographs.

For more information on O'More, the show house location and hours, and all of the alumni designers who contributed to this great project, visit the website: www.omorecollege.edu.

See more of Terry's portfolio here: baileygraphicdesign.com

_____

http://styleblueprint.com/nashville/everyday/20-reasons-visit-omore-alumni-show-house/